Basilicata Coast to Coast (2010)

Narrator: Hello, I am God, and I would like to launch an appeal for all humanity.

Ladies and gentlemen, find a passion and follow it to the end.

Oh well, I'm not credible as God with this southern accent that you can't even tell what south he's from. So, I'll say it: I was born in Basilicata. Yes, Basilicata exists. It exists! It's a bit like the concept of God. You either believe in him, or you don't.

I believe in Basilicata. I saw it, it was night. Let's say I caught a glimpse of it, a big Basilicata. A region that, in terms of depression and unemployment among young people, it's just as good as Puglia, Sicily, Campania and Calabria. It's just that we don't have the mafia... but give us our slice of mafia! Agritourism, prostitution...

On the double bass, Franco Cardillo. On the guitar, Salvatore Chiarelli. On the guitar case, exceptionally with us, Rocco Santamaria.
